I am very interested in Command line format. At first I didn't really understand the full differences between them so I watched a youtube video. I learned that with command line you have many benefits which come when you get to more advanced situations although at first it seems like the harder and less intuitive way of creating and organizing. It has a few advantages right away, for one you can skip steps which you cannot skip using GUI. If you want to go straight from desktop to a folder within a folder and straight back you can using \ and …
I will probably use GUI because it's what I'm used to and what I intuitively do but I look forward to mastering command line technique.
